

BOGOTA

Bicycle paths

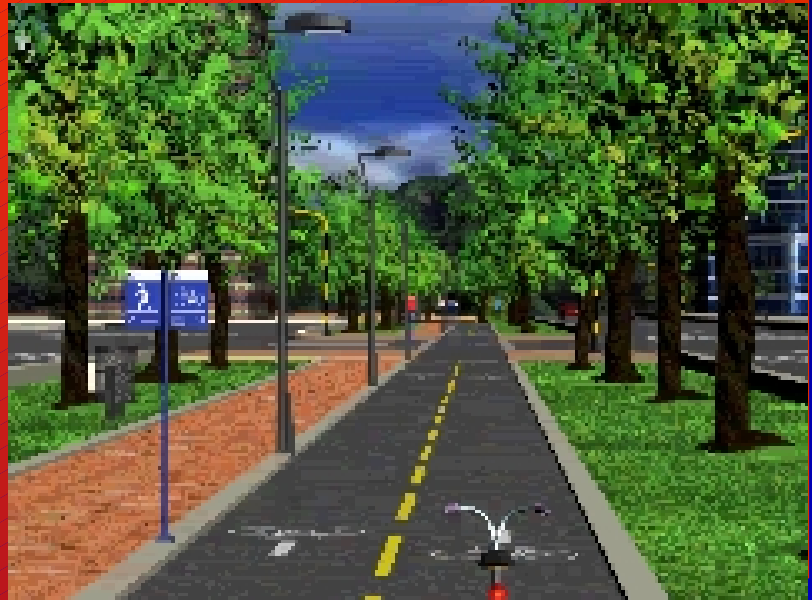

The Cycle path is an alternative road, allowing the improvement of the public space, with the creation of pleasant and comfortable zones for the citizens and the development of the concept of the use of bicycles as a means of transportation.

Bicycle paths

The project will develop a system of alternative transportation, covering part of the 14 million trips that are generated daily in the capital, and offering users, security and significant savings in time and money (70% of the population will save an average of 11% of the salary).

Bicycle paths

Bogota, an ideal city for the use of bicycles:

- urban density of 200 inhabitants per hectare
- average distance between house and work: 8 km
- flat city with an average of 14°C during the whole year
- traditional use of the bicycle at competitive level
- the massive acceptance of the “Sunday Cycle-Route”

Bicycle paths

- The City Hall is investing over US$ 200 millions
- 200 kilometres of bicycle paths (2000)

Reducing car-dependency

Sunday Bicycle routes

Every Sunday, 150 kms. of roads are closed throughout the city to traffic during 7 hours to allow more than one million and a half citizens to practice various sports.

Sunday Bicycle routes

Perhaps the most beautiful site the city of Bogota has is the “Sunday Bicycle-Route”. It is the only place where all social classes are mixed, it is a carnival where the president of a company, the messenger and all the users are equal. Besides, The “Sunday Bicycle-Route” is the safest place of the city and this not only happens because of the presence of the police, but also because there is another type of relationship between the citizens, a jointly liable society shares this carnival every Sunday.

Car Free Day

Date Thursday, February 24, 2000
Schedule 6:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m.
Geographic Coverage
Bogota's Urban Perimeter
1,732 km²

The Car-Free Day was carried out in a workable day because the economic activity of the city cannot be affected by the non use of private vehicles, citizens had three days of the week, previous to the event, to organize their activities and a later day to make those that had been pending
